Palestinians living under Israeli occupation are currently facing a horrific escalation of racism and violence as the Israeli state pursues a strategy of collective punishment.

On 1 July, 17 year-old Mohammed Abu Khdeir was abducted and murdered in what has been described in the press as a 'revenge' attack following the abduction and murder of three Israeli teenagers.

Mohammed's body was found in Jerusalem after a day and evening of Israeli protests that turned into mobs streaming through the streets of the Old City and East Jerusalem chanting 'Death to Arabs'. Palestinians were pulled from their cars and beaten. These mobs had been incited by Israeli leaders. Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu called for 'vengeance' against 'human animals'. Defence Minister Moshe Ya'alon talked about 'settling the score'. Palestinians protesting against Mohammed's death have been met by rubber bullets and tear gas from Israeli police, with a Palestinian TV crew and protesters injured.

These events aren't random, unexplained or isolated. They are an integral part of Israel's illegal military occupation, its denial of basic Palestinian human rights, and a web of racist and apartheid laws and practices. The Israeli state violates UN resolutions and international law with impunity. Over 500,000 Israeli settlers live in illegal settlements in the Occupied Palestinian Territories, travelling on roads, built on Palestinian land, that Palestinians are banned from using, to their homes, built on stolen Palestinian land. Palestinians are subjected to home demolitions, checkpoints, arrests, and indefinite detention – not randomly and occasionally, but daily and systematically.

1518 Palestinian children have been killed since 2000, according to the Palestinian Ministry of Information. That's one child killed every THREE days.

Millions of people just like you, around the world, are standing up and taking action – for peace, justice and freedom for Palestinians. And it IS making a difference.

Because of the campaigning work done by Palestine Solidarity Campaign and its branches across the country, support is growing for Palestinian rights. The movement for boycott, divestment and sanctions against Israel (BDS) is forcing companies such as G4S and John Lewis to break links with Israel's occupation, settlements and violations of Palestinian rights.

We need YOUR help to make the campaign even stronger, and increase the pressure. We need the British government to change its policy on Palestine, act to respect Palestinian rights, and force Israel to abide by international law. We need YOU to join PSC.

Please take action today:

- Tell your MP to act to end Israel's war on Palestinians – it only takes TWO minutes. Just go to www.palestinecampaign.org and you can use our e-tool to write to them.
