

DELETE GENOCIDE TECH

Tech corporations Palantir, Oracle and Cisco Systems are providing Israel with essential technology used to commit genocide in Gaza, and impose apartheid against Palestinians.

Yet, these companies are being awarded lucrative contracts by the government, local councils, universities and businesses.

We are calling for all contracts with tech companies enabling Israel's atrocities to be cancelled.

Scan the QR code to get involved in the campaign

Palestinians are being constantly surveilled and monitored by Israel, using advanced technology systems that collect detailed information on every aspect of their lives.

This isn't just invasive—it's deadly. Israel uses AI technology to rapidly generate targets for its bombing campaigns in Gaza which destroy schools, hospitals and entire neighbourhoods.

It uses cloud software to maintain databases storing sensitive information on Palestinians. This information is used to target them for arbitrary arrest and detention in Israel's prisons, where they face systematic torture, and to restrict their movement by preventing them from passing military checkpoints to go home, to work or school or to visit friends and family.

The corporations providing Israel with this technology, such as Palantir, Oracle and Cisco Systems, are being handed massive amounts of public money in Britain.

The NHS, multiple government departments, police forces, local councils and universities all have substantial contracts with these companies.

We are demanding that all these contracts are cancelled.

